

Update for August 2007

"Much less direct than any of the other Iranian films... "From Afar" is a virtual visual poem."
The Spokesman-Review, February 2007

"Suspended by the most gossamer of emotions, this is a lyrical and gorgeous film made with an almost painterly attention to image and light."
VIFF Official Guide, September 2006

"Reaching for subtle, disturbing emotions, three poetic episodes delicately trace the malaise of a young artist and intellectual in Ramin Mohseni's debut feature From Afar."
Variety, February 2006
